

Kyle Corbett is a passionate Food Scientist who has a keen interest in food production and food safety. He is currently writing up his MSc Food Science Thesis, through the Centre for Food Safety at the Department of Food Science at Stellenbosch University, His thesis is titled "The prevalence of sanitizer resistant Listeria monocytogenes in South African Food Processing Environments"